Synergy Hospitality Inc. Honored with Top Workplace Award

Synergy Hospitality named "Top Workplace" by Philadelphia Inquirer for eighth consecutive year

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. – Synergy Hospitality has been selected as a "Top Workplaces" award winner for 2018 by Philadelphia Inquirer. This elite distinction names the Philadelphia based hospitality management company as a leader in organizational health and culture for the eighth year in a row.

The annual Top Workplaces award program uses employee surveys and assessments to gain science-based insights into organizational culture and workplace environment. Synergy Hospitality was ranked 17 out of 40 midsize organizations based solely on employee surveys about workplace environment.

"We know our team members are our most valuable asset but having them nominate Synergy for this award reinforces how important they are to our company," said Stephen Field, president of Synergy Hospitality, Inc. "I am truly humbled and honored to have such a positive and supportive team."

Synergy Hospitality manages extended-stay, limited-service and full-service hotels throughout the Mid-Atlantic, including Wilmington, Delaware; Bel Air, Maryland; Trenton, New Jersey; East Elmhurst, New York; Glen Mills, Pennsylvania; Audubon, Pennsylvania; Morgantown, Pennsylvania; Phoenixville, Pennsylvania; and Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Their focus is on creating a remarkable experience for not only their guests, but also team members through their culture. This is the eighth consecutive year the hospitality management company has been recognized with the "Top Workplaces" award.
